

2. The proposed engine claims to produce more work in a cyclic process than the amount of heat that is supplied, so it is in violation of the first law of thermodynamics.