

Building Relationships

Take a few minutes to review the actions discussed in the preceding sections that can lead to a positive relationship. List the qualities that you feel you exhibit in dealing with others. What other people-oriented characteristics do you have that can help build strong customer relationships?
