

Chapter 25 The Basics of Credit

Section 25.1 Credit Essentials

Reading Activity—Create a Table

Directions Create a two-column table showing examples of how consumers, businesses, and governments use credit. Look for examples in the textbook, including the features, and try to think of some additional examples that are not mentioned in the book. Write the types of users in the left column and example to illustrate the types of users in the right column.
