

Acknowledgments

First and foremost, we are grateful to all researchers and industrial developers worldwide for their contributions to various concepts and technologies discussed in the book. Our special thanks to all the members/consultants of Manjrasoft, CLOUDS (Cloud Computing and Distributed Systems) Lab from the University of Melbourne, and Melbourne Ventures who contributed towards the development of Aneka Cloud Application Platform, the preparation of associated application demonstrators and documents, and/or the commercialization of the Aneka technology. They include Chu Xingchen, Srikumar Venugopal, Krishna Nadiminti, Christian Vecchiola, Dileban Karunamoorthy, Chao Jin, Rodrigo Calheiros, Michael Mattess, Jessie Wei, Enayat Masoumi, Ivan Mellado, Richard Day, Wolfgang Gentzsch, Laurence Liew, David Sinclair, Suraj Pandey, Abhi Shekar, Dexter Duncan, Murali Sathya, Karthik Sukumar, and Sita Venkatraman.

We sincerely appreciate the efforts of the following members of the CLOUDS Lab for proofreading several chapters: Rodrigo Calheiros, Nikolay Grozev, Amir Vahid, Anton Beloglazov, Adel Toosi, Deepak Poola, Mohammed AlRokayan, Atefeh Khosravi, Sareh Piraghaj, and Yaser Mansouri.

A note of appreciation is due to all colleagues and users of the Aneka technology for their direct/indirect contributions towards application case studies reported in the book. Our special thanks to Raghavendra from ADRIN/ISRO for his enthusiastic efforts in creating the satellite image-processing application using Aneka and publishing articles in this area. We also extend our gratitude to Srinivasa Iyengar from MSRIT for creating data-mining applications using Aneka and demonstrating the power of Aneka to academics from the early days of Cloud computing.

We are grateful to the Australian Research Council (ARC) and the Department of Innovation, Industry, Science and Research (DIISR) for supporting our research and commercialization endeavors.

We thank all our colleagues at the University of Melbourne, especially Professors Rao Kotagiri, Iven Mareels, and Glyn Davis, for their mentorship and positive support for our research and knowledge-transfer efforts.

Dr Buyya is indebted to his family members, including Smrithi Buyya, Soumya Buyya, and Radha Buyya, for their love and understanding during the preparation of the book.

We sincerely acknowledge the contributions of external reviewers K Chandra Sekaran of NIT Surathkal, Sateesh K Peddoju of IIT Roorkee, M P Sebastian of IIM Kozhikode, and a few others. Their critical comments and suggestions have helped us enhance the presentation and organization of many chapters at a finer level, thus improving the quality of the book.

Finally, we would like to thank the staff at Tata McGraw Hill Education for their enthusiastic support and guidance during the preparation of the book. In particular, Vibha Mahajan who inspired us to take up this project and set the publication process in motion; Shalini Jha, Smruti Snigdha, Amiya Mahapatra, Satinder Singh Baveja, Sohini Mukherjee, and Anuj Shrivastava for coordinating the publication process. They were wonderful to work with!
