

Chap 1. Definitions

Across

5. Networked hypertext system that allows documents to be shared over the Internet.
9. Microsoft's Web browser.
10. Real-time communication on the Internet
11. Organized electronic discussion group.
12. First graphical user interface for the World Wide Web.
13. Contact your buddies whenever they are online to chat or trade files.

14. Worldwide connection of more than 72 million computers that use the Internet Protocol (IP) to communicate.
17. The most often used Internet protocol.
20. The group in charge of the assignment of domain names, IP address numbers, and protocol parameter and port numbers.
21. The unique identifier for every computer on the Internet.
22. Pre-cursor to the Internet.
23. A backbone that connected the nation's five supercomputer centers at high speed.

25. On the Internet, servers communicate with

Down

1. Permits the use of alphabetic characters instead of numbers to identify computers on the Internet.
2. The most popular top-level domain.
3. Use of a video camera and a microphone to enable people conversing over the Internet to be able to see and hear each other.
4. Electronic mailing lists
6. A protocol for playing multimedia content over the Internet.

7. A computer that sends information.
8. He is credited with inventing the World Wide Web.
15. Company that made the first commercial browser.
16. Electronic magazines
18. Text that has been linked.
19. He coined the term "hypertext."
24. Standard method for transferring files over the Internet from one computer to another.