

Chapter 17. How HTML Works

Across

3. ___ font-style tags allow you to set attributes such as bold or italics.
4. Tag used to place pictures on a Web page.
5. Merged language consisting of HTML and XML.
7. H1, H2 and H3 are all examples of a ___ tag.
9. The language that Web pages are written in.
10. Software that interprets HTML and displays it for the user.
12. Tag used for the opening section of a Web page.
13. Tags that have code at the beginning and end of a section of text are ___.
15. Special codes that describe how a page is to be marked up.
16. A hypertext reference or link.
5. Universal format for structured documents and data on the Web.
6. To design Web pages, you add ___ to the text.
8. This tag surrounds the main information in a page.
11. This group is the official body overseeing the HTML language.
14. You can put pictures on a Web page using the ___ tag.

Down

1. Most common block style used on Web pages.
2. ___ tags function on their own with no stop tags.