

CONTENTS

Examples and Boxed Features xiii

Preface xiv

PART I THE IDEA OF POLITICS 1

CHAPTER 1 Politics: Setting the Stage 1

Politics 2

Politics as the Making of Common Decisions 3

Politics as the Exercise of Power 4

Power and Choice 10

Politics of the State 13

Political Science 14

The Pleasures of Politics 17

CHAPTER 2 Modern Ideologies and Political Philosophy 20

American Ideologies 22

Liberalism 25

The Conservative Reaction 27

The Socialist Alternative 31

Communism and Socialism 34

Fascism 35

Ideologies in the Twenty-First Century 36

Religion, Politics, and Political Philosophy 38

Political Philosophy in Other Historical Eras 40

PART II THE STATE AND PUBLIC POLICY 47

CHAPTER 3 The Modern State 47

The Development of the Modern State 49

The Origin of States: Power, or Choice? 51

The State as a Device to Provide Public Goods 53

“State,” “Nation,” and the “Nation-State”	55
State-Building	61
Government and the State	62
Challenges to the State	64
Some Possible Alternatives	67
Example: State-Building in Nigeria	68
Example: State-Building in the European Union	70
CHAPTER 4	Policies of the State 75
The Role of Government in the Third World	78
Constraints and Conditions for Policy	80
Defense Policy	82
Education	83
Research and Development	84
Health and Social Welfare	88
The Place of Power in Policy Analysis	90
Example: The Demographic Challenge	90
Example: Economic Development Compared with “Human Development”	91
Example: Uganda, An African AIDS Success Story	93
CHAPTER 5	Economic Policy of the State 96
Economic Performance I: Growth	97
Economic Performance II: Controlling Inflation and Unemployment	105
Unemployment	106
Managing Distribution to Address Inequality	108
Independent Central Banks	111
Corruption	114
Other Measures Available to Government	118
Globalization: Are States Losing Their Ability to Make Economic Policy?	118
Political Economy	120
Example: Economic Policy in Germany	122
Example: Economic Policy in Indonesia	126
CHAPTER 6	What Lies Behind Policy: Questions of Justice and Effectiveness 131
The Problem of Justice	132
Other Aspects of Justice: Procedural Justice	134
Effectiveness	138

A Basic Question of Effectiveness: Authority versus the Market 140

Power and Choice 145

The Need to Act, Even under Uncertainty 145

Example: Political Choice 146

PART III THE CITIZEN AND THE REGIME 149

CHAPTER 7 Democracy and Autocracy 149

Democracy 149

The Coming and Going of Democracy 151

Possible Explanations 152

What Did We Learn from the Third Wave? 154

Why Are Prosperous Countries Likely to Be Democracies? 157

Democracy and Freedom 159

Democracy and Capitalism 160

Autocracy 161

Military Government 163

Why Aren't There More Military Governments? 166

One-Party States 168

Monarchies and Theocracies 169

Democracy versus Autocracy: Material Considerations 170

"Power and Choice" Again 172

Example: Democratization in Spain 172

Example: Fragile Democracy in Peru 174

Example: Theocracy in Iran 177

CHAPTER 8 How Individuals Relate to the State, and the State to the Individual 181

Legitimacy and Authority 183

Sources of Legitimacy 184

The "Democratic Citizen" 186

How Well Are These Requirements Met? 188

Social Capital 192

Political Culture 193

An Application of Political Culture: Robert Kagan's Of Paradise and Power 194

Religion and Political Culture 195

Political Socialization 198

Example: Building Authority and Legitimacy in West Germany after World War II 201

Example: Declining Democratic Legitimacy in the United States 203

PART IV THE APPARATUS OF GOVERNANCE 209

CHAPTER 9 Constitutions and the Design of Government 209

Variations in Formality 210

The Virtue of Vagueness 211

Other Principles of Constitutional Design 212

Constitution-Writing 215

The Geographic Concentration of Power 217

“Federal” and “Unitary” States 218

The Distinction between “Unitary” and “Centralized” States 220

How Much Centralization Is Good? 221

Constitutions and Guarantees of Rights 222

“Constitutionalism” and the Rule of Law 223

Example: Constitutional Government in Great Britain 224

Example: Constitutional Government in Russia 227

CHAPTER 10 Elections 230

Elections as a Means of Building Support 230

Elections as a Means of Selecting Leaders and Policies 235

Electoral Systems 235

Referendums 240

Electoral Participation 241

Effects of Choice and Information on Turnout 244

The Paradox of Voting 245

The Bases of Individuals’ Electoral Choices 246

Example: Proportional Representation Elections in Israel 250

Example: Elections in Nigeria 251

CHAPTER 11 Parties: A Linking and Leading Mechanism in Politics 255

The Political Party 255

Origins of the Modern Party 256

Political Parties and the Mobilization of the Masses 258

Political Parties and the Recruitment and Socialization of Leaders 259

Political Parties as a Source of Political Identity 260

Political Parties as a Channel of Control	263
Party Organization	263
Party Finance	265
Political Party Systems	266
Power and Choice	271
Example: The Communist Party of China	272
Example: Canada's Political Parties	273
CHAPTER 12	Structured Conflict: Interest Groups and Politics 278
Interest Groups and Representation	280
Types of Interest Groups	286
Tactics of Interest Groups	288
Patterns of Organized Interest-Group Activity	292
Pluralism	293
Neocorporatism	294
Pluralism and Neocorporatism: Power and Choice	296
Example: Interest Groups in France	297
Example: Interest Groups in Japan: Attenuated Neocorporatism	298
CHAPTER 13	Social Movements and Contentious Politics 303
Why Now?	305
Social Movements as a Public Goods Problem	307
Advantages (and Disadvantages) of Informal Organization	307
Example: The Rubber Tappers of Acre	311
Example: The "Orange Revolution" in Ukraine	315
CHAPTER 14	National Decision-Making Institutions: Parliamentary Government 318
Head of State	320
The Cabinet	321
Cabinet Control	322
What Does a Parliament Do?	322
Parliamentary Committees	326
Advantages and Disadvantages of Parliamentary Government	327
Let's Make Sure I Haven't Made This Sound Too Simple	329
"Consensus" Parliamentarism	329
Parliaments in Autocratic Systems	331

Example: Parliamentary Government in India 333

Example: Parliamentary Government in Germany 336

CHAPTER 15 *National Decision-Making Institutions: Presidential
Government* 341

Presidential and Parliamentary Systems Compared 344

Responsibility for Policy 345

Presidential Systems and Comprehensive Policy 346

Recruitment of Executive Leaders 346

Review and Control of the Executive 347

Flexibility of the Political Process 349

The Split Executive of Parliamentary Systems 349

Why Aren't All Democracies Parliamentary Systems? 351

Constitutional Review and the Fragmentation of Power 353

A Note on Constitutions and Power 356

Example: Presidential Hybrid in France 357

Example: Presidential Government in Mexico 359

CHAPTER 16 Bureaucracy and the Public Sector 363

Public Administration as a Political Problem 364

Characteristics of Good Public Administration 366

“Bureaucracy”: A Reform of the Nineteenth Century 367

Bureaucracy versus Flexibility 368

The Problem of Protected Incompetence 369

Adjustments to Bureaucracy 370

Social Representativeness of Public Administration 371

Example: The French Bureaucracy 374

Example: Bureaucratic Cultures in Europe and Africa 375

CHAPTER 17 Law and the Courts 379

Anglo-Saxon Case Law 380

Continental European Code Law 381

The Blending of Case Law and Code Law 383

Religious Law: The Sharia 384

Courts 386

Example: The Law in China 388

Example: The European Court of Justice 391