

Contents

Part One

Learning About Books and Children 1

Chapter 1

Knowing Children's Literature 2

Children's Literature Defined 3

What Is Children's Literature? 3

Writing for Children 4

Valuing Literature for Children 5

Personal Values 5

Educational Values 8

Teaching Feature 1.1: Books at the Center 9

Evaluating Children's Literature 9

Plot 10

Setting 10

Theme 11

Characterization 11

Style 12

Point of View 12

Additional Considerations 13

Guidelines: Evaluating Children's Fiction 16

Developing Sources to Help Choose Books 17

Teaching Feature 1.2: Selected Book Awards for Children 18

Challenging Perspectives 19

Teaching Controversial Issues: The Ten-Point Model 21

Children's Literature 26

Chapter 2

Understanding Children's Responses to Literature 28

Reading Interests and Preferences 29

Age and Gender Differences 30

Other Determinants of Interest 31

Explaining Children's Choices 32

Developmental Patterns That Influence Response 33

Physical Development 33

Cognitive Development 34

Language Development 35

Moral Development 36

Personality Development 37

Guides for Ages and Stages 39

Teaching Feature 2.1: Books for Ages and Stages 39

Response in the Classroom 48

Theories of Response 49

Types of Response 50

Interpreting Children's Responses 50

Collecting Children's Responses 53

Children's Literature 55

Part Two

Exploring Genres in Children's Books 63

Chapter 3

Picturebooks 64

The Picturebook Defined 65

Teaching Feature 3.1: A Brief History of the Picturebook 66

Creating Meaning in Picturebooks 67

The Elements of Design 67

The Artist's Choice of Media 71

Teaching Feature 3.2: The Artist's Media Choices 72

Choosing Artistic Conventions 75

Teaching Feature 3.3: Historical and Cultural Conventions in Picturebooks 76

An Artist's Personal Style 77

The Format of the Book 78

Graphica and the Graphic Novel 80

The Language of Picturebooks 81

Guidelines: Evaluating Picturebooks 82

The Content of Picturebooks 83

Teaching Feature 3.4: A Sampling of Picturebooks 85

Challenging Perspectives

on Picturebooks 93

Table 3.1: Color Around the World 94

Curriculum Connections: Using Picturebooks to Address Standards 97

Children's Literature 99

Chapter 4

Traditional Literature 102

A Perspective on Traditional Literature 104

Folktales 105

Types of Folktales 105

Evaluating Folktales 107

Teaching Feature 4.1: A Cross-Cultural Study of Folktale Types 108

Characteristics of Folktales 109

Guidelines: Evaluating Traditional Literature 110

Teaching Feature 4.2: A Cross-Cultural Study of Folktale Motifs and Variants 115

Fables 116

Characteristics of Fables 117

Editions 117

Myths 118

Creation Myths 118

Nature Myths 118

Hero Myths 119

Editions 119

Epic and Legendary Heroes 120

Editions 120

The Bible as Literature 122

Collections of Bible Stories 123

Challenging Perspectives on Traditional Literature 124

Curriculum Connections: Using Traditional Literature to Address Standards 126

Children's Literature 128

Chapter 5

Modern Fantasy 132

Fantasy for Today's Child 133

Types of Fantasy 134

Literary Fairy Tales 134

Animal Fantasy 135

The World of Toys and Dolls 136

Eccentric Characters and Preposterous Situations 137

Extraordinary Worlds 139

Magical Powers 140

Teaching Feature 5.1: Chronicles, Sagas, and

Trilogies: Recent Fantasy Series for Children 141

Suspense and the Supernatural 145

Time-Shift Fantasy 146

Imaginary Realms 147

High Fantasy 149

Science Fiction 151

Teaching Feature 5.2: Exploring Possible Futures:

Science Fiction for Today's Youth 153

Evaluating Modern Fantasy 154

Guidelines: Evaluating Modern Fantasy 155

Challenging Perspectives on Modern Fantasy 156

Curriculum Connections: Using Modern Fantasy to Address Standards 157

Children's Literature 160

Chapter 6

Poetry 166

Poetry for Children 167

Where Poetry Begins 167

The Elements of Poetry 168

The Overall Impact of Poetry 174

Evaluating Poetry 174

Guidelines: Evaluating Poetry for Children 175

Forms of Poetry for Children 176

Teaching Feature 6.1: Forms of Poetry for Children 176

Selecting Poetry for Children 178

Children's Poetry Preferences 178

Poetry Books for Children 179

Teaching Feature 6.2: Specialized Collections of Poetry 183

Creating a Climate for Enjoyment 187

Finding Time for Poetry 188

Reading Poetry to Children 189

Choral Reading 190

Challenging Perspectives on Poetry 191

Curriculum Connections: Using Poetry to Address Standards 193

Children's Literature 195

Chapter 7

Contemporary Realistic Fiction 200

Realism in Contemporary Children's Literature 201

What Is Real? 203

How Real May a Children's Book Be? 204

Bias and Stereotyping 205

The Author's Background 207

Evaluating Contemporary Fiction 207

Guidelines: Evaluating Contemporary Realistic Fiction 208

Categorizing Literature 208

Teaching Feature 7.1: A Sampling of Contemporary Realism for Children 209

Popular Types of Realistic Fiction 214

Teaching Feature 7.2: Popular Fiction for Today's Readers 217

Challenging Perspectives on Realistic Fiction 221

Curriculum Connections: Using Realistic Fiction to Address Standards 222

Children's Literature 225

Chapter 8

Historical Fiction 228

Historical Fiction for Today's Child 229

The Value of Historical Fiction 230

Types of Historical Fiction 232

Evaluating Historical Fiction 235

Guidelines: Evaluating Historical Fiction 239

Classroom Approaches to Historical Fiction 239

Teaching Feature 8.1: Historical Fiction and the Social Studies Sequence by Grade Level 240

Challenging Perspectives on Historical Fiction 246

Curriculum Connections: Using Historical Fiction to Address Standards 248

Children's Literature 250

Chapter 9

Nonfiction 254

Nonfiction for Today's Child 255

What Is Nonfiction? 255

Awards for Nonfiction 255

Evaluating Nonfiction Books 257

Accuracy and Authenticity 257

Guidelines: Evaluating Nonfiction Books 258

Content and Perspective 263

Teaching Feature 9.1: Types of Nonfiction 264

Style 269

Organization 271

Illustrations and Format 272

Challenging Perspectives on Nonfiction 275

Curriculum Connections: Using Nonfiction to Address Standards 278

Children's Literature 281

Chapter 10

Biography 286

Biography for Today's Child 287

Criteria for Juvenile Biography 289

Choice of Subject 289

Accuracy and Authenticity 290

Style 292

Characterization 293

Theme 294

Guidelines: Evaluating Juvenile Biography 295

Types of Presentation and Coverage 295

Teaching Feature 10.1: Types of Biography 296

Challenging Perspectives on Biography 300

Curriculum Connections: Using Biography to Address Standards 302

Children's Literature 304

Part Three

The Literature Program Across the Curriculum 309

Chapter 11

Planning the Literature Program 310

Purposes of the Literature-Based Curriculum 312

Teaching Feature 11.1: Fact and Fiction: Books to Use Together 313

Components of a Literature Program 319

Sharing Literature with Children 320

Selecting Books to Read Aloud 321

Storytelling 322

Teaching Feature 11.2: Effective Practices for Reading Aloud 323

Book Talks 324

Providing Time to Read Books 324

Providing Time to Talk About Books 325

Providing Time for the In-Depth Study of Books 326

Children's Writing and Children's Books 327

Exploring Literature Through the Visual Arts 328

Teaching Feature 11.3: Books That Serve as Writing Models 329

Music and Movement in the Classroom 332

Extending Literature Through Drama 334

Connecting Literature and Life 336

Creating Graphic Organizers 336

Artifacts and Collections 337

Maps and Time Lines 338

Jackdaws 339

Figure 11.1: Making a Jackdaw 340

The School and the Community 340

The Whole-School Program 340

Involving Administrators 340

The School Library Media Center 341

The Library Media Specialist 341

Selecting Materials 342

Working with Parents and the Community 344

Evaluating the Literature Program 345

Guidelines: Evaluating a Literature Program 345

Children's Literature 347

Appendix A Children's Book Awards 354

Appendix B Book Selection Aids 360

Author, Illustrator, Title Index 365

Subject Index 388